Role description

Associate global director – international medical graduates

Role title

Associate global director (AGD) – international medical graduates (IMGs)

Department

RCP Global – Membership Support and Global Engagement (MSGE)

Role context

The Royal College of Physicians (RCP) plays a pivotal role in setting the standards and, through a variety of activities, influencing the quality of medical practice in hospitals. It conducts examinations, carries out training, education and research activities and advises the government and the profession on health and medical matters.

The Medical Training Initiative (MTI) is a mutually beneficial scheme that provides international medical graduates from all over the world with the opportunity to work and train in the UK, while giving hospitals a high-quality, longer-term alternative to using locums to fill vacancies. The RCP MTI scheme facilitates General Medical Council (GMC) registration, visas and can secure placements, for eligible candidates.

Over 20% of RCP members and fellows are based outside of the UK across approximately 120 countries. Many UK-based members and fellows also contribute to the delivery and shaping of healthcare systems globally. In partnership with our global membership and partners, and by leveraging our respected brand and the UK’s reputation in global health, the RCP is well-positioned to support developing healthcare systems and the medical communities working in these countries.

This post is suitable for RCP fellows working in the NHS.

Purpose and scope

The RCP’s Global strategy (2021–24) was launched in January 2021 and the post-holder will play a key role in supporting the delivery of the strategy’s vision, mission and principles.

The purpose of the post is to work with the RCP MTI team, the head of Global and the Global vice president to design, implement, monitor and evaluate a new MTI strategy aimed at ensuring that the scheme is best suited to the current needs of candidates, NHS hospitals and international partners.

The role requires the post-holder to act as a representative of the RCP, both within the UK and internationally, attending relevant meetings and undertaking travel where necessary.
