

Royal College of Physicians

SKETCH THE SPINE

King Henry the Eighth started the Royal College of Physicians (RCP) in 1518 to make sure that doctors in London were properly trained to help people get well. More than 500 years later, that's still what the RCP does – but now we do it all over the world, not just in London!

The RCP has built a brand-new building in Liverpool so we can meet more doctors and help people even more. Have you seen our new building, The Spine? We want you to make a picture of it to help us celebrate the building opening. You can use pens, pencils, paints or anything you like to make your creation!

Entry deadline:
Monday 20 September

Winners announced:
Early October 2021

PRIZES

Your sketch at The Spine's first exhibition

Invitation to exhibition
afternoon with your family

Drawing supplies for you and your school

Voucher

Send your sketch to sketchthespine@rcp.ac.uk